TO THE USERS OF THIS MATERIAL

All the stones were recorded by location in each row as an aid to identifying family membership or relationship. Letters or figures that were worn or indistinct were recorded according to best judgment, thus 185(6).

About thirty years ago, a record was made of some of the older stones in these cemeteries. Most of these were for adults who died before 1880. In many cases, only the year of death and age to the nearest year was recorded. These older records were checked against the inscriptions as found in 1974. If the data did not agree, the stones were re-examined and the findings recorded and underlined in this report. As an example, age 76-4-16. Some unusual names or dates will also be found underlined. Some of the older data was used in this report for stones that could not be found in 1974. Thanks are offered to those who gathered the older records.

MENTONE CEMETERY, located at the southeast edge of Mentone, in Franklin Township, Kosciusko County, Indiana. The oldest part of the cemetery occupies the south side and is designated as Section I. This section is divided into six narrow subsections as indicated on the map. Each of these subsections was recorded as a separate portion.

These inscriptions were recorded during the month of October 1974 by Lester H. Binnie, Rt. 4, Albion, Indiana, 46701.

Section I, the old section.

The first number, appearing before a list of stones in this section, indicates the number of the row beginning at the east end of the sub-section. Stones in odd numbered rows were recorded from north to south and from south to north in even numbered rows.

NICHOLS CEMETERY, located about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile east of Kosciusko County Road 1100 W, on the south side of 950 S, in Franklin Township. This is an old cemetery which has been in continuous use. According to the COMBINATION ATLAS MAP, KOSCIUSKO COUNTY, 1879, page 39, the land was donated in 1843 by Prosper Nichols. The first burial is said to have been a child of Samuel Shields.

Prosper Nichols was a settler in Franklin Township in 1839, a former resident of Harrison County, Ohio. According to the atlas, he died in 1868. A stone in row 18 shows that Prosper Nichols died on 18 Oct. 1866. The stone does not provide a birth date or age. A church once occupied a site about 300 feet north of the entrance to the cemetery, perhaps a German Baptist Church, as the first communion service of that denomination is said to have been held in the home of Prosper Nichols.

This cemetery is well kept, but many of the old stones are being damaged by the power equipment used in mowing.

These records were taken by Lester H. Binnie, Rt. #4, Albion, Indiana, during the month of October 1974.

D.A.R. records , made in about 1940, provide a partial list of the stones in this cemetery. These records include two names that were not found in 1974.

BURKET, Susanna died 1861, age 25 Years

ALEXANDER, Margaret, wife of Wm. R. died 1878

The Nichols Cemetery contains markers for some of the earliest settlers in the southern part of Franklin Township. As identified in THE COMBINATION ATLAS MAP OF KOSCIUSKO COUNTY, 1879, these included:

Prosper Nichols who settled in 1839. It was in his home that the first religious service was held by Jacob Miller, a German Baptist minister.

David Bechtelheimer, recorded as the first carpenter was the lay minister in the German Baptist Church in 1879.

Jeremiah Burns was the first school teacher - 1842.

Children of Prosper Nichols, who were members of the community, included at least the following:

Solomon, a son

Mary, wife of Samuel Shields

Sarah, wife of Wm. Wagner

Lucy, wife of Peter Bryant and

Anna, wife of Hugh Bryant.

HAMMON CEMETERY, located near the center of Sec. 29, T. 31 N. R., 5 E. and about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile northeast of the intersection of County Road 900 S and the Beaver Dam Road in Franklin Township. This cemetery is fenced and occupies a space about 100 by 160 feet. According to the owners of the adjacent land, it is infrequently mowed and is not now being used for burials. It appears that most of the space has been used, and several graves have no tombstones.

This record was made by L.H. Binnie, Rt. # 4., Albion, Indiana, on 8 November 1974.

FAIRVIEW CEMETERY, located on County Road 600 W, about $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles south of Palestine and just north of Yellow Creek Lake. It is on the east side of the road and adjacent to an abandoned school house, "Seward Twp. Dist. No. 10, 1897", in Seward Twp., Kosciusko County, Ind.

This is a small cemetery, about 200 feet square, and is divided into two sections by a roadway extending from east to west through the center. These sections are designated as the North and South sections in this record.

These inscriptions were recorded during the month of October, 1974, by Lester H. Binnie, Rt. #4, Albion, Ind., 46701.

 2. HABSOCK, James A., son of A.J. died 1859, 0-1-4

END

Several of the earliest settlers in Seward Township were buried in the Franklin Cemetery. As judged by an account in the COMBINATION ATLAS MAP OF KOSCIUSKO COUNTY, 1879 these included:

Gordon Hurlbut who settled with three sons in 1837. The first white child born in the township, Rhoda L., daughter of C.B. & Gratia Hurlbut, was likely his grandchild.

Milo R. Barbour (Barber) who settled in 1838 and presented the petition signed by 220 citizens for creation of the township in 1859. The township was taken from the east side of Franklin Township. He was appointed the first trustee.

John and Robert Robinson who settled in 1838. The first religious meeting - Presbyterian - is said to have been held in the cabin of John Robinson.

Others who were among the first settlers were, John and Mark Smith, Wm. Anderson and Nathaniel Paxton.

No marker was found for James Garvin who operated the first blacksmith shop, planted the first orchard and was sent to the State Legislature with a petition for the first road - north and south through the center of the township.
