GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCH.

The history of the German Lutheran St. John's Congregation at Piquette, Ind., goes back as far as 1852. At that time the Rev. C. Starkner, now at Baltimore, Md., and who then had a charge at Logansport, Ind., came to missionary and preached the first Lutheran sermon of this place (Piquette). He was, in fact, the founder of the day congregation. It started, of course, at that time, so if it affects our people, it affects the Lutherans of Piquette in fact, but by the building up of the German Church of Logansport, and the conversion of the Lutherans of Piquette, and the Lutherans of Piquette, and the Lutherans of Piquette...

THE MIAMI COUNTY SENTINEL.

With this issue of the Miami County Sentinel I take farewell of its columns. It is not possible to say that the journal has been in a creditably high state for some years. It has been a failure, but without potentially a lack of tact in search of a failure, but it is not possible to say that the journal has been a failure... The Miami County Sentinel is a weekly paper published at the office of the Sentinel, in the town of Piquette, Miami County, Indiana. It is published by the Sentinel, and is the only paper published in this county...
