

Douglas E. Hollan

Nov. 29, 1969 – March 31, 2019

Douglas E. Hollan, 49, of Rochester, passed away unexpectedly March 31, 2019, at home.

He was born to Ray D. and Vergie Howard Hollan on Nov. 29, 1969, in Hazard, Ky. He has been a resident of the area most of his life.

Doug worked in trailer manufacturing at Fairmont and Schultz Homes. He was a car and motorcycle enthusiast and had a love of music. He was also a 1988 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Doug leaves behind his sons, Shelby Douglas Dean Hollan and (Hailey Konger), of South Whitley, and Justin Mullins, of Warsaw; his grandchild, Ellarayne Bias, of Warsaw; and his brother, Allen Wade Hollan and (Cara Turner), of Rochester. Also surviving is his former wife, Vanessa Mullins Hollan.

In honoring the family wishes, there are no services planned at this time. Arrangements are entrusted to Deaton-Clemens Funeral Home, Bourbon.

Condolences may be left at deatonclemensfh.com.

Rochester Sentinel April 1, 2019

Douglas E. Hollan

BOURBON - Douglas E. Hollan, 49, of Rochester, passed away March 31, 2019, unexpectedly at home.

He was born to Ray D. and Vergie Howard Hollan on Nov. 29, 1969, in Hazard, Ky. He has been a resident of the area most of his life.

Doug worked in trailer manufacturing at Fairmont and Schultz Homes. He was a car and motorcycle enthusiast and was known for his love of music. He was a 1988 graduate of Tippecanoe Valley High School.

Doug leaves behind his sons: Shelby Douglas Dean Hollan (and Hailey Konger) of South Whitley and Justin Mullins of Warsaw; along with his grandchild, Ellarayne Bias of Warsaw; and his brother, Allen Wade Hollan (and Cara Turner) of Rochester. Also surviving is his former wife, Vanessa Mullins Hollan.

In honoring the family wishes, no services are planned.

Deaton-Clemens Funeral Home is privileged to be entrusted with arranging his services.

Condolences may be left at deatonclemensfh.com.

Times Union April 2, 2019