

Rodney A. Holloway

Rodney A. Holloway, a resident of Mentone, passed away unexpectedly on Sunday, Oct. 13, 2019, at home.

He had struggled with diabetes for nearly 20 years and although his family mourns his death, they are comforted to know there is no more testing, no more waiting for results and no more doctor's appointments for Rodney who was only 36 years old.

Rodney was born on Aug. 4, 1983, in Warsaw. He was the son of Garold Holloway and Sharon Hyde Wagoner and a graduate of Warsaw Community High School. He was an avid pool player and enjoyed BINGO. He liked going to auctions and had worked at Creighton Brothers for some time. Most of all, Rodney was a joker with a laid-back style and a good sense of humor. He loved time spent with his nieces and nephews.

Those who survive with memories to cherish include his girlfriend, Shannon Mayhew, of Mentone; mother, Sharon (husband, Matt) Wagoner, of Warsaw; father, Garold (wife, Wendy) Holloway, of Plymouth; and his siblings, Christopher (wife, Conya) Holloway, of Mentone; Melissa Paxton, of Twelve Mile; Jason (wife, Nicole) Holloway, of Warsaw; Troy Holloway, of Warsaw; Christopher Bittinger, of Plymouth; and Kelsey Wagoner, of Oklahoma. He is also survived by his paternal grandparents, Dean and Sylvia Holloway; maternal grandfather, Ira Hyde; and by numerous nieces and nephews.
