SAGA 2015-2016

Ah, the beach! Its warm inviting sand and cool refreshing waves! And don't forget the hot rays of the sun shining down on you as it gradually turns your skin a beautiful tan color. You can almost smell the aroma of popcorn, and hotdogs cooking on the grill at the concession stand. Peeking out from under your multi-colored beach umbrella, you spot the sight of the gulls circling overhead. You can hear the relaxing sound of wave after wave softly meeting the beach... BEEEEEEEEEEEEEP... What's this??? It was only a day-dream? You're really in school and that was the tardy bell announcing the beginning of the school day. Oh well, it was fun while it lasted. Keep dreaming, summer vacation will be here soon enough and you can find yourself back on that beach for real! In the meantime, keep up your studies, but do find a little time to "surf" through high school as you enjoy your yearbook. ~The Saga Staff~

Student Life

Students at TVHS study hard but books aren't the only way to seek knowledge. Many lessons are learned outside of the classroom. Valley students participate in a variety of activities that let them grow not just academically, but also socially. Our environment encourages students to be their fun, quirky, and sometimes crazy selves.

H O M E

During homecoming week there are many activities that take place. This year for an example there was hall decorating, powder-puff football, costume day and "Merica" day. Everyone looks forward to the homecoming olympics Friday afternoon

One student shows their "Merica" day pride by painting their nails red, white and blue. Below is the boys homecoming volleyball game.

Teacher, Mr. Wilcox dresses up in halloween costume. Below students "decorating" a Christmas tree during the olympics.

One time I walked into the wrong classroom and saw that someone was in my seat. I got really confused and then I realized I was in the wrong class. I had to walk out with everyone looking at me.
-Bryce Cudney

There was this time when I kissed my crush in the middle of the hallway during SRT, then I went to walk away and fell on my face and I got up and laughed then ran away.
-Tuesday

I was reading a book in class and started screaming and crying over a character dying, I was so stuck in the book I forgot I was in a full classroom..
-Katrina Newsome

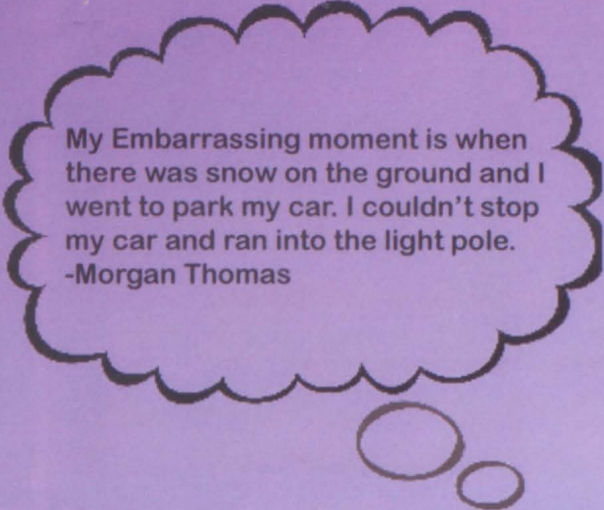

The first time I donated blood, I tried using the restroom but they wouldn't let me go until I had something to eat, I wouldn't eat something because I had to use the restroom so bad so I left to go and as I went to the restroom, I ended up fainting in the bathroom stall.
-Anonymous

My freshman year I was walking and was on my phone and ran into the showcase by the Ag room.
- Cheyenne Hall

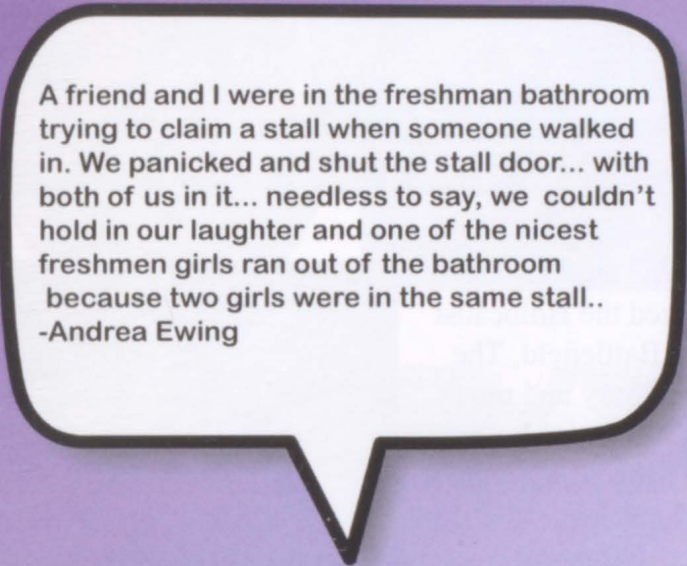

One time in the locker-room I was talking to my friends and trying to fix my shirt when I ran head first into the corner of the wall.

-Payton Fincher

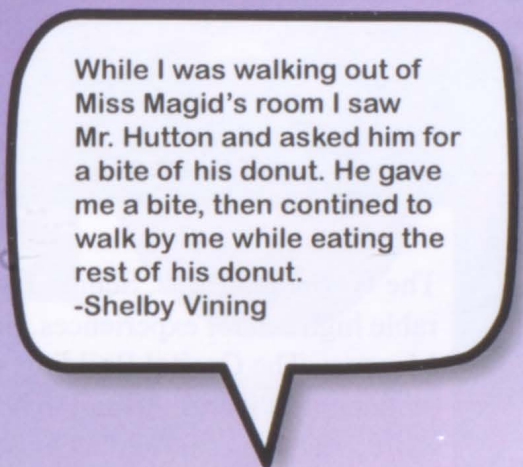

My Embarrassing moment is when there was snow on the ground and I went to park my car. I couldn't stop my car and ran into the light pole.

-Morgan Thomas

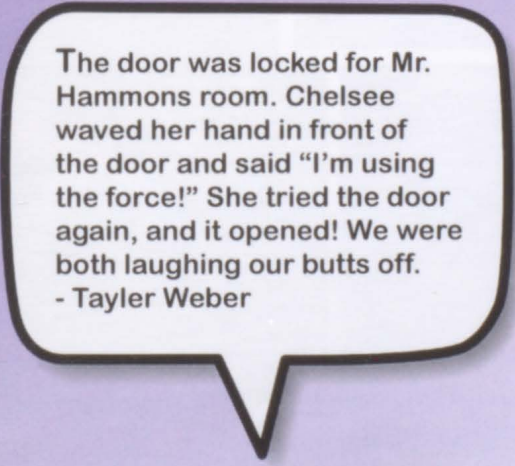

A friend and I were in the freshman bathroom trying to claim a stall when someone walked in. We panicked and shut the stall door... with both of us in it... needless to say, we couldn't hold in our laughter and one of the nicest freshmen girls ran out of the bathroom because two girls were in the same stall..

-Andrea Ewing

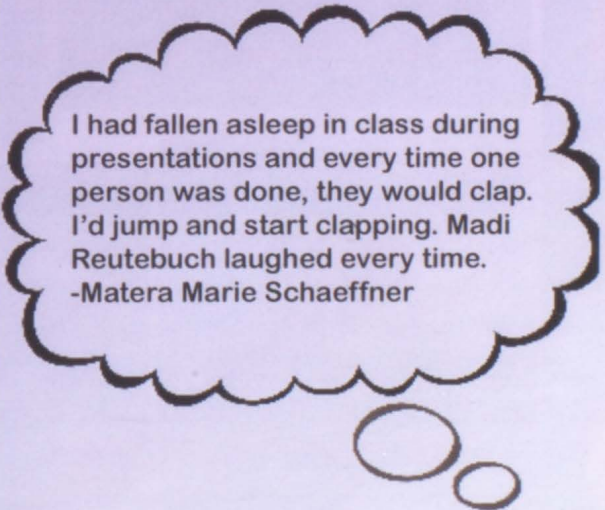

While I was walking out of Miss Magid's room I saw Mr. Hutton and asked him for a bite of his donut. He gave me a bite, then continued to walk by me while eating the rest of his donut.

-Shelby Vining

The door was locked for Mr. Hammons room. Chelsea waved her hand in front of the door and said "I'm using the force!" She tried the door again, and it opened! We were both laughing our butts off.

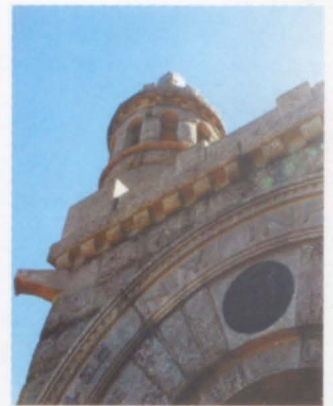

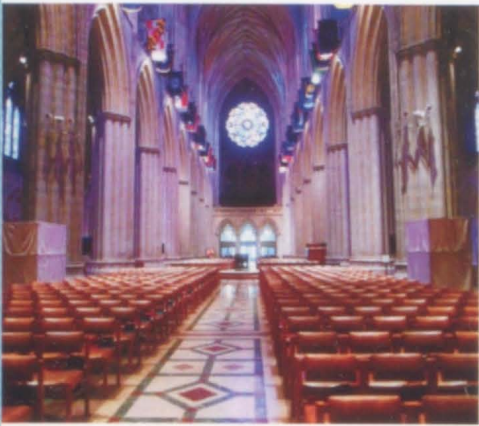

- Tayler Weber

I had fallen asleep in class during presentations and every time one person was done, they would clap. I'd jump and start clapping. Madi Reutebuch laughed every time.

-Matera Marie Schaeffner

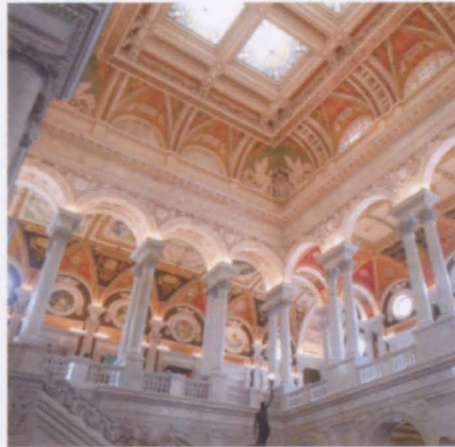

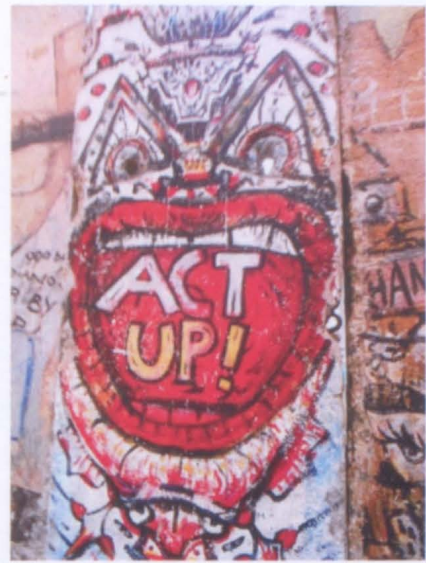

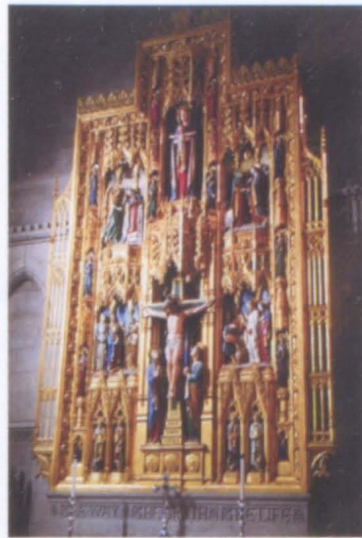

SENIOR TRIP

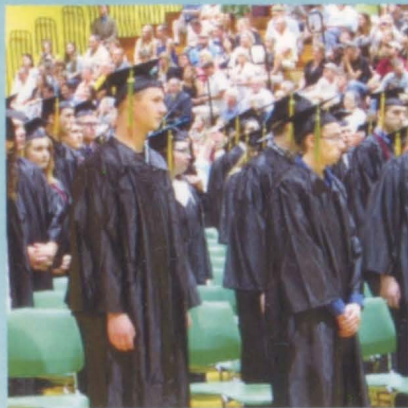

The Washington D.C. Senior Trip is one of the most memorable high school experiences. Students toured the Holocaust Museum, The Capitol Building, Gettysburg Battlefield, The National Cathedral, Arlington National Cemetery and much more, including the White House this year. They also got to see many different monuments such as the Lincoln Memorial, WWII Memorial, and many more. This was an awesome experience and the class of 2016 would like to thank Mr. Smith, Ms. Day, Mrs. Shriver, and Mrs Johnston for making this trip extra special.

Special thanks to Ms. Day for teaching us to always "duck" when there are ducks flying above you.

Jobs For America's Graduates

Jobs for America's Graduates, or JAG, is a state-based national non-profit organization dedicated to preventing dropouts among young people who are most at risk. In more than three decades of operation, JAG has delivered consistent, compelling results-helping nearly three-quarters of a million young people stay in school through graduation. JAG also has many activities such as college visits, mock interviews, and community service.

"One of the best ways to give yourself meaning is to continue to challenge your abilities."

STUDENTS EXCHANGE

Luca Jeckstadt

Luca decided to become an exchange student because he wanted a new experience. He didn't have many expectations at first but when he came here he found the people to be nicer than in Germany. Almost everything is different and he loves it, except for Indiana weather. He thinks it's going to be different when he goes back and he also said that the whole year is his best "LIFE TIME EXPERIENCE" experience!!

After Cindy had heard the school's announcement about the exchange program she thought it was cool so she became an exchange student. At first she thought that people were eating hamburgers everyday but in fact she ate it once a month! "People are extremely nice or extremely weird" she said. China is totally different, one thing she likes the most is the freedom and fun to study but one thing she doesn't like is the food because she gained 20 lbs. in the first 3 months. Her best experience is she made some best friends and did all kinds of stupid things with them! Since she was here; she has grown up. It's going to be different when she goes back home because she won't be used to the lifestyle and language.

Cindy Li

"COMPLICATED"

Leah Knaack

Leah became a huge fan of America when she first visited, she always wanted to come here for a long time. Being an exchange student now has brought her back. She didn't have many expectations but reality still surprised her a lot!! The country life is so different than what she is used to and she experienced new things almost every day. In the first place, she thought she'd miss her home but it turns out she rarely missed them at all! All things are different; mentality of the people, they're friendly and nice, how kids are playing with guns or it's normal to see a monkey in school! She said that she loved the fact that she can be herself here without people judging you (she meant you can go to school in your pajamas!!), but she thinks college is so expensive and it should be free. During this year, she has learned and changed a lot. Leah added that she become less shy and more confident; she thinks a lot more about her future and how to work on it. Going back will be hard for her. She loved being in the big family but when she goes back; she is the only child at home. Leah is also changing her school in Germany and she is going to meet new people which she is excited about!

OF MY LIFE THAT
I'LL NEVER FORGET"

Hearing many stories about exchange students and their new experiences made Cherry want to become one. At first she thought it would be hard to find some friends at school, but that's not true. People here are really nice and friendly. Many things are different; school is easier and the school system is different. Since she has been here, Cherry has realized that she's more confident and it's not hard to talk to new people. The whole year taught her a lot and everything's going to be different when she goes home.

Cherry Sermsri

"FANTASTIC"

Carl Walter

Carl was asked by his teacher and decided to become an exchange student. He arrived here a few weeks late but has done really well. Most of his expectations about America were true, but he was told that in Indiana there is really nothing to do. He said that people here are very nice but all the farmers dressed like one! He had a good opportunity to go to New York and that was his best experience. He has improved his English this year and it's going to change him a little bit when he goes back.

"PRETTY AWESOME"

Rafael Zebende

Rafael wanted to explore outside of his country that was the reason he came here. Everything about America that he heard matched the reality; people are nice. "Everything is different between here and Brazil" he added. He likes soccer and enjoyed soccer season. He has improved his English while visiting.

"AWESOME"

Greta was interested in new discoveries, trying something new and meeting new people, and becoming an exchange student. When she envisioned America she thought about fat people, guns and easy school. Everything in Italy is different; school, food, houses and people. She likes the people here. Greta said that everywhere you go you can find someone that tells you that you're pretty. But one thing that she likes the least is guns. In Italy there are no guns allowed. Greta has learned so many things here, and she thinks that she has changed.

Greta Perucca

"BOOM!!"

Flavia Barone

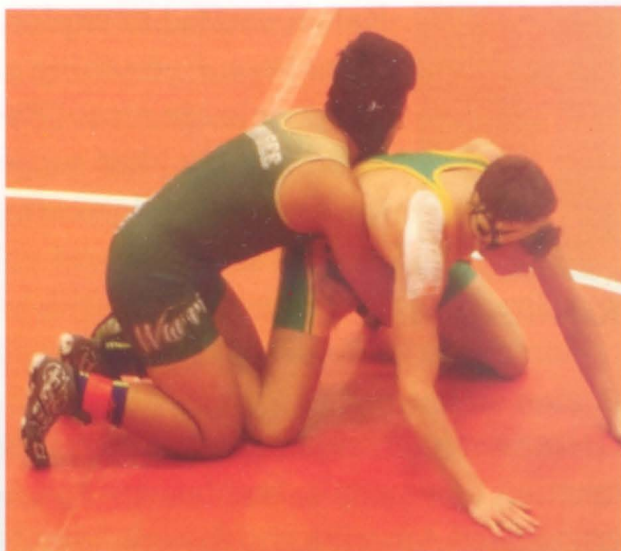

Interest in different cultures brought Flavia to America. The reality seems to match her expectations about America; people are friendly and kind and school is absolutely different. But in Italy, "we are more free to do things" she said. She likes school and American food but not the way people spend their free time. She still had many good experiences. Her best experience was the Senior Trip to Washington DC.

She thinks she has grown up and has learned about a new language and different culture. When Flavia goes back she will see people around her in different ways.

"IT'S NOT A YEAR IN YOUR LIFE, IT'S A LIFE IN YOUR"

HOST FAMILIES

All the exchange students said that they had very good host families. They enjoyed spending time here and are happy that their host families were part of it. The host families are the big part of the exchange student's life, they taught them how to adjust to new people and they also made so many memories with them. Leah added that she loved her host family so much and enjoyed living in a big family (with 9 siblings!!). She also thinks it is her second real family and she wouldn't trade them for anything. Of course it's not perfect but that's what makes it real. Cindy said that her host family was like her real family; full of love, patience and fun!

Sports

Valley is a sports school. You'll find many of our students dedicated to at least one sport at TVHS, some earn letters in three or more. Many hours of practice, conditioning, hard work and sacrifice go into a successful athletic season. Viking athletes are ready and willing to put in this work day after day. And let's not forget the toils of our coaches who strive to make each valley athlete a success. GO VIKINGS!

Last Will And Testament

"Being in Peers has left an impact on those around me because I have helped out others."

- Alexis O'Connell

"The craziness of America! I will miss all these weird people that make me feel like I fit right in."
- Leah Knaack

"Bought a homeless man food on Easter."
- Austin Sagun

"Mr. Parker, Mrs. Trippeidi, Mr. Hamman, Mr. Engbrecht They have all impacted me in a positive way and almost always asked how I was doing at the time."
- Trevor Neeley

"Mrs. Williamson! She's made such an impact on my life. Even in the short time I've really got to know her. I'm gonna miss her tons!"
- Jasmine Sabo

What are you leaving behind?

"Mr. Shriver, Mrs. Yazel, Mrs. Chenoweth, Mrs. Trippeidi, Ms. Ponce, Mrs. Burton, and Mr. Wilcox. Why? Because they are ALL so very inspiring and they care about our futures and they motivated me every day to do my very best and told me every day I can always achieve anything I put my mind to."
- Deziree Stimeling

"My activities as an athlete, because I love to play sports with friends at school."
- Nick Caudill

"I feel that I have been a good example for the underclassmen on how to have fun in school but still be a serious student."
- Austin Nickerson

"I make everyone laugh."
Shelby Vining

"One thing I am sad to leave behind is this town/surrounding area. I have found that I have come to love it too late."
