GAZETTE-HERALD

C. M. Smith, Editor.

Mentone, Kosciusko County, Ind.

Published every week, except on Sundays and holidays, at $1.00 per copy in advance, and $1.25 per copy when paid for in advance.

Advertisements in Advance.

Readers 10 cents per line for first insertion, and 5 cents for each subsequent insertion.

Entered at the Post Office at Mentone for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

The Enterprise runs off the lot but takes all over the county—[Mentone, Ind.]

Yes, but it requires a loaded horse to do any execution when it goes off.

On last Tuesday evening a terrific wind storm struck Washington, C. H., the county seat of Fayette county, O., which completely demolished the main part of town. Seven persons were killed and over fifty seriously injured. The town contained over 5,000 inhabitants, and is the home of Mrs. C. H. Joyce, one of the GAZETTE subscribers.

Your friends at a distance ever complain that you do not write to them often enough? Are you a "poor hand" to write letters? or is business so busy that you can seldom find time to write? In either case would not your friends feel partly compensated if you would send them a short letter at least once a week containing much more news about your town than you could conveniently put in a large letter. Suppose you send them the GAZETTE, at least until you get time to write. If we can thus accommodate you we shall be very glad, and in so doing we are mutually benefited.

How little does our citizens know when they go to sleep at night at the usual time of retiring, of what is going on in the streets and alleys of our city. We sleep on in apparent security, little dreaming perhaps, that a burglar is at our window trying to gain admission into a room that would alarm us if we knew him. He goes from house to house seeking where he may find a weak spot to enter and no one knows where he may strike and where he may be met. The burglar is a person to be feared. He goes around and is ready at all times to take him who is interfered with—[Kendallville News.]

The above is instructive, as the writer speaks knowingly, and altho his words may make our sleep full and full of nervous states, they may add to our safety by increasing our knowledge of the habits of this nocturnal being called burglar. The writer should have given a plan for exterminating the "varmints." Wonder if, in his experience, he ever knew "pizze" to be tried.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

The cranberry crop is reported good. The people of Pierceton are still tormented with chicken thieves.

Some of the Macks there will be on an eclipse on September 25.

Garrett, DeKalb county, is happy over the prospects of more railroad shops.

A changing digress is the chief occupation of the people of Akron for the present.

The Garrett Herald rejoices over the immense crop of sour kraut being gathered in that section.

According to the Mirror, Bourton is just now shook up by an "epidemic of cats" too bad to talk about. Don't mention it.

The editor of the Akron Echo is putting up a building large enough to accommodate his business, and to make a dwelling for his family, and it can be easily enlarged sufficiently to take in the postoffice if it should become necessary.

Thien.

What on the decline.

Corn fields well except on low spots which is somewhat blighted by recent frosts.

There appears to be a very unpleasant feeling existing in the minds of some which forebodes trouble. Let propagators of unkind stories and untruths beware, as every thing comes to light through unknown channels.

G. W. Carver is expecting his pension soon as it has been allowed.

The colored people will not hold their meetings here as reported.

Ellis Strosdyer's sister, Mrs. Moses Nelson, of Bloomingsburg, was buried at Yellow Creek graveyard Monday. Her disease was consumption.

John is rocked with colds and chills and almost blown to atoms at times by winds. It seems at times it is impossible to stand but it does. We are convinced that it is founded on a rock.

Let the winds come, and the floods descend and beat upon it! "Let 'em blow!"

It is understood that the Protestant Methodist minister, who has been sent to take charge of this circuit; the coming year, will occupy Mr. Correll's house of this place.

Some of the Hott people went to the basket meeting at Bloomingsburg last Sunday and report a pleasant time.

Corn crop injured yet by the frost. Whooching caught raging here at all over the house.

Surprise parties are all the go at the Grove this fall.

A baseball school is rather low because parades take more interest in visiting or staying at home than in Sabbath school or the morals of their children. This week has been a good one.

We need more preaching and less dancing and profane language in our town.

Corra McPherson and Naomi Taylor, who were visiting at Bloomingsburg a few days last week.

Joseph Harrison is improving the Brubaker farm by clearing out some of the neglected corners.

E. H. Hummel has moved from our midst last Friday to his new home south of Bloomingsburg. We wish him prosperity in his new home.

Alwood.

The Normal will have this week. The Normal will have this week.

Mr. Nathan Zolman, who lives a few miles south of this place, died Sept. 7, 1885.

We find the Gazette to be becoming a welcome visitor in many families hereabouts.

W. F. Hanel of Maple Grove moved to our vicinity last Thursday.

Miss Cora McPherson, of near Mentone, is the guest of Mrs. S. A. Hanel.

We saw a horseman pass through our vicinity last Saturday evening at such a rate that his coat "streamed" away behind him. We supposed that was the cause of the young man's fast riding, but by inquiry, found it was Wm. Harrison from Maple Grove going to see his sweetheart, Ah, Willie!

DIED.—Lucinda, wife of Moses Nelson, of this place, died last night, Sept. 8, 1885. She has been a sufferer by terrible disease—consumption—for the past twelve years. EDUCATIONAL.

Several of the teachers of this vicinity have suggested that an educational column in the GAZETTE would be an interesting feature. We are of the same opinion, and will be glad to devote a certain amount of space each week to the public schools if the teachers and others will continue to manifest sufficient interest to warrant it. Having followed teaching for over ten years our own fraternal relations add to our interest in the work; we shall be glad to receive communications from teachers on various topics in connection with their work. Send us school and institute reports, and anything of general interest.
